

WRITER'S BLOCK DETOX

TASK 10: LINE UP, LINE UP!

Task 1: Line Up, Line Up!

I don't want you to stop writing when the bootcamp is over, so it's time to think about what comes next and make sure you have a stash of ideas, prompts and inspiration to draw on. Ideally you'll do this during the week, but if things are tough you can do it once we've finished.

Grab all of your work so far, your highlighted exercises and your inspiration notebook. Keeping ideas visible will help them become reality, so do this exercise in your writing book, inspiration notebook or on a piece of paper to stick up.

You have 10 minutes to list 15 things that you could write about next. They can be snippets, explorations, or full novel ideas. It doesn't matter if the idea is 'good' yet, just get them out.

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

11.

12.

13.

14.

15.